

“Learning”

Reflection:

A 99 cent store opened in New Berlin recently, and ran a promotion where, if someone could prove they were 99 years old, they received 99 free items. My Grandmother is 99, so my parents took her here for an afternoon, shopping, and exploring.

Normally, my Grandmother would only look at the products she is familiar with. As a closeout and overstock store like this, however, and with a desire to take full advantage of the opportunity she was forced to look at items she had never used before or even seen.

That is the case with these re-closable storage bags. She is listening and “learning,” as my mother explains what they are and how they work.
